Dear fellow global nursing colleagues and leaders,

It is a genuine pleasure to welcome you to the 8th Asia-Pacific Advanced Nursing Practice, Nursing Education, and Leadership Conclave Conference which will be held in Singapore on June 17-18, 2027, a gathering that continues to distinguish itself through its remarkable breadth, depth, and relevance to today's clinical practice environment.

What impressed me most about the Nursing Asia-Pacific 2026 program—and what I am delighted for you to experience—is the extraordinary diversity of topics that reflect the realities of modern healthcare. From emerging clinical innovations to evolving models of care delivery, the sessions are intentionally designed to meet the moment we are living in: one defined by rapid change, global interdependence, and the need for adaptable, evidence driven practice.

I was especially inspired by the interprofessional perspectives woven throughout the conference. Presenters representing a wide range of disciplines bring forward not only their research, but also their lived experiences, philosophies, and insights into current global health challenges. Their collective expertise enriches every discussion and reminds us that meaningful progress in healthcare is always a collaborative endeavor.

Throughout the conference, you can look forward to engaging dialogue and presentations that highlight:

- Clinically relevant, up to date research that informs and elevates practice
- Diverse and innovative approaches to addressing contemporary healthcare challenges
- Interprofessional viewpoints that broaden our understanding of global health issues
- Thoughtful reflections on how philosophy, ethics, and professional identity shape care delivery

This event offers a valuable opportunity to connect with colleagues who share your commitment to advancing practice, improving patient outcomes, and strengthening the future of healthcare. I hope you leave with renewed energy, expanded perspectives, and a deeper appreciation for the power of interdisciplinary collaboration.

Thank you for being part of this important gathering. I look forward to the conversations, insights, and inspiration that will undoubtedly emerge.

Sincerely,

Lorena D. Paul, DNP, MEd, GCNE, AMB-BC

Esteemed Colleagues,

It is my great pleasure to invite you to participate in the 8th Asia-Pacific Advanced Nursing Practice, Nursing Education, and Leadership Conclave, which will be held in Singapore on June 17-18, 2027. It will be an excellent opportunity for healthcare professionals, researchers, educators, and clinical leaders from around the world to exchange knowledge, share experiences, present innovative research, international collaboration, and contribute to the advancement of healthcare.

I had the honour of being an invited speaker at the previous Conference, and the privilege of experiencing exceptional scientific program, inspiring discussions, and the warm collegial atmosphere that brought together experts from many countries. It is therefore a pleasure to encourage you to participate in this outstanding international event.

As an endocrinologist and diabetologist, I firmly believe that the future of healthcare depends of collaboration among disciplines, continuous education, evidence-based practice, and the integration of innovative technologies into everyday clinical care. Chronic diseases, particularly diabetes and its vascular complications, remain among the greatest global challenges, making the exchange of knowledge and experience more important than ever.

This Conference offers an excellent opportunity to explore the latest advances nursing practice, healthcare education, clinical leadership, and interdisciplinary care through inspiring keynote lectures, scientific presentations, and meaningful professional networking.

I wish you a rewarding and inspiring experience at the 8th Asia-Pacific Advanced Nursing Practice, Nursing Education and Leadership Conclave.

With my warmest regards

Anica Badanjak, MD
